“I wish this company will leave all of you with the same desires it left in me - just being a part of it - that desire for rightness and hardness, the desire to run far and fast in the morning, a desire to find the enemy, to win this war on terror, and to honor our fallen at every opportunity.”

“Your service yesterday and into our future is honorable and respected by everyone around you.
I thank you and forever will remember your contributions as a Company to this, a grateful nation.
